December - 2010

UMW Hosts Christmas Dinner

You are invited to join the United Methodist women at their annual Christmas Dinner to be held on Wednesday, December 8th at 6:30 p.m. Special guest, Marti Mc Cartney, Living History Interpreter and Presenter-Corsetier and Seamstress, will present a program of a Victorian Christmas-Interactive. Join the 'Captain's Lady' as she remembers Christmas stories from the Kansas frontier, like the antler Christmas tree and Indian children at the window. Join in as we play 1870s parlor games and sing Christmas Carols. See some of the decorations for the Victorian Christmas tree and visit with your friends as you enjoy the taste of gingerbread cake made from an 1860s recipe. You won't want to miss out on this enjoyable Christmas program. Childcare will be provided in the church nursery.

You Are Invited to "A Taste of Christmas"

On Dec. 1, we will hold "A Taste of Christmas" open house. This has become a favorite for the whole community, and others from surrounding towns as well. The open house offers a cookbook and free samples of recipes in the cookbook for $7. Those who turn in a recipe and serve their samples will receive a free cookbook.

The evening will be full of live Christmas music, warm friendly faces and wonderful food to sample! We have reached numerous people that might not have otherwise visited our church, and each year we hear more and more about how wonderful it makes people feel to be a part of such a welcoming Christ like atmosphere.

WELCOMING OUR GUESTS

We've all had those 'wow' moments when visiting a new place. The moment where you were immediately impressed and felt welcomed. The moment where you knew right away that this was a place you wanted to come back to again. What has been a 'wow' moment for you? Where were you and what happened to make you feel that way? Read the names of businesses on the list below. Next to each business, write down the first word that pops into your mind when you think about each place. (Don't spend a lot of time thinking about your answers, write the first word that comes to mind.)
