Sermon Series: "Facing Wholeness"

PRELUDE

WELCOME & GREETING

CALL TO WORSHIP*:

Leader: As we embark on our journey toward mental wellness, we name the suffering in our nation and in our world. From the uncertainties and losses we have endured to violence of war to the destruction of natural disasters, we are inundated by adversity and long for a Savior. As we wait for our rescue, we ask:

ALL: O Lord, how long?

Leader: We name the sorrow and challenges in our neighborhoods. From anxieties about how to educate our children to the strain of public discourse riddled with malice instead of kindness to the violence that makes neighbors afraid of their neighbors, we are surrounded by trouble and long for a Shepherd. As we wait for our relief, we ask:

ALL: O Lord, how long?

Leader: We name our worries and the strains in our homes. From the stresses of juggling childcare, elder care, and full-time jobs to the concerns of how to make ends meet when we are already stretched thin to the grief for all we have lost, we are overwhelmed by distress and long for the Prince of Peace. As we wait for our restoration, we ask:

ALL: O Lord, how long?

Leader: How long, O Lord, how long, until you rescue, relieve, and restore your people?

ALL: Together we wait. Together we hope.

Leader: Together we wait and together we hope as we seek wellness of body, mind, and emotions for ourselves and our neighbors.

All: Amen.

For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.
